

NANA CONSTRUCTION

MODULAR HOMES

BUILT IN ALASKA, FOR ALASKANS

FLEXIBLE DESIGN

Choose your floor plans, square-foot options, add-ons and finishes. Our in-house draftsmen provide layouts and assist with specifications.

MODULAR ADVANTAGE

NANA Construction can complete projects, from the award date to final installation, in less time than a stick-framed home built on-site.

FASTER DELIVERY

Whether on the road system or a remote location, we deliver using a broad spectrum of methods to ensure your modular home reaches your homesite.

QUALITY HOMES, MODULAR PERFORMANCE

Built and customized for your specific needs and for Alaska's toughest conditions.

From start to finish, our modular homes are designed and constructed by Alaskans in Alaska. We use high-quality materials and build inside our 105,000-square-foot fabrication facility. Our ability to build in a controlled environment saves you money by minimizing the need for work on-site, as well as limiting the risk of dealing with weather, staffing and material availability of prolonged on-site work.

AESTHETICALLY PLEASING & COMFORTABLE

MODULAR LAYOUTS

Let our in-house draftsmen assist you in developing a personalized floor plan.

DESIGN PROCESS

We have a network of Alaskan engineering partners who provide our clients with customization options.

SPRAY INSULATION

Our advanced spray foam application methods provide industry-leading insulation efficiency.

HEATING SYSTEMS

We provide heating systems that best meet client needs, whether it's heating oil, electric, natural gas or propane.

Our modular homes provide the comfort of a traditional stick-built home with the advantages of modular construction.
